

Botanical Name:	Italicise or Underline
Common Name:	Lower case – Maori, common
Family:
Country of Origin:	Origin + exotic, native or endemic
Natural Habitat:	Environment naturally found in
Plant Type:	E.g. tree, shrub, groundcover Deciduous or Evergreen
Habit/Form:	E.g. rounded, pyramidal, prostrate
Size:	At 10 years (height and spread) At maturity (height and spread) Reference these if you find conflict of information
Growth Requirements:	What conditions is the plant tolerant to? Sun Moisture Temperature e.g. frost Wind e.g. coastal Soil conditions e.g. heavy clay
Special Characteristics:	E.g. exceptional growth rate, distinct juvenile form, sculptural form, texture (course, medium, fine), hazardous or unpleasant features, scent, bird attracting
Description:	Leaves Flowers Fruit Bark Etc (whatever is relevant or notable for the plant) Include photograph/s and a drawing
Landscape Uses:	Use your imagination to think of the full range of design situations in which this plant could be effectively e.g. small garden, large garden, specimen, focal point, container, underplanting, pleached, rockery, shaded area, dry area, hedging, trained over trellis work etc.
References:	Format order is author surname (alphabetical order), initial, pub. Date, title (in italics). Publisher, country